From the Editor:

The magazine will be a little different from our last summer issues. Because of a new contract change, this magazine will feature our new State President, Ollie Harvey, on the page for the President's Message and we will have the center section as a Salute to Mary Bright, our 1980-82 State President.

It's been a great two years serving as your Editor and I'm looking forward to the next two years. Please keep sending me your club stories, pictures (black & white), and your club newsletters. I enjoy reading each and every one of them and will try to feature your club at least once in the magazine. The more you send, the chances are that you will be featured several times.

Our magazine not only gives you club happenings, but it keeps you informed on up-to-date state and national events. There is something in our magazine for every member of your club to enjoy. Take the time to read and get to know your State Magazine.

Sometimes we may not realize that everything we do
Affects not only our lives
but touches others, too.
A single, happy smile
can always brighten up the day

And a little bit of thoughtfulness that shows someone you care
Creates a ray of sunshine for both of you to share.

To every person who has contributed to the CLUBWOMAN and made my job as Junior Editor so easy and rewarding.

The friends I've made along the way have smoothed the rocky road
And touched my heart with kindness that eases a heavy load.

My thanks and prayers for every one who's thoughtfulness never ends
I love you each with all my heart my wonderful new found friends.

Thank You,

President's Message

Dear Friends,

"This is a moment of mixed emotions... of humility and happiness, of gratitude for your trust, of prayerful hope for the inspiration and strength to serve you well. It is a sobering moment, for now with your mantle of leadership resting on my shoulders, there is remembrance of the illustrious records written by the capable women who have worn it before. It is also a reminder of the awesome challenge to maintain the foundations they have laid while progressing ahead to meet the new challenges of today and the emerging opportunities of tomorrow."

The above are excerpts from my acceptance speech at the Greenbrier. During this message I will share some additional thoughts with you. The past few months have been like Christmas, with the daily mail bringing greetings of best wishes for a successful administration. I feel we are off to a great start and "THE SEA OF GIVING" is already evident in your many messages, plans for spring workshops, installations, community projects, and local groundwork that is being laid by your clubs new officers in getting their administration "off and running."

"From the inception of the WV Federation until today, each administration has faced the challenges of its times ... but throughout the years there has been the common denominator of SERVICE. We have been innovators because of our insights, motivators because of belief in our ideals, and doers because of our tenacity in serving a cause. I truly believe there are still causes to be served in West Virginia, and in each of our local communities!"

"I believe the spirit of volunteerism still lives in America! We see examples of it on every hand ... the community charity drive, support of hospitals and libraries ... the rallying around when disaster or tragedy strikes ... 25,000 volunteer fire departments in communities large and small!"

"And yet, as clubwoman volunteers, how can we "turn it around in the 80's and stay involved when statewide we are losing approximately 500 members each year? Let's talk for a few minutes about our declining membership, and what the causes might be. In many instances, our unpaid volunteers for years have been receiving excellent training for jobs in business management and all phases of human social services .. as the economy tightened, many have through necessity gone into the job market; while others have gone back to school to complete their education and pursue careers. Today, a record 51% of American women work outside the home.

So, it seems that if we are to keep and build our membership in the 80's, we must help the individual clubmember make the best of their talents within their "time" frame. No longer can we be strictly a "social" organization; no longer can we put together a "last minute" program; no longer can we try to accomplish everything that is passed onto our clubs by the West Virginia Federation or General Federation of Women's Clubs...we must set priorities...we must strive for quality, not quantity. WE MUST BE AWARE OF EVERY CLUBMEMBERS' INDIVIDUAL TALENTS...if we can get her involved with her limited time in one satisfying project then she will feel a part of our service organization! This calls for an indepth study of your club policy, procedures, and practices!

Thousands of West Virginia clubwomen have found success in their careers, love in their families, and gratification in their community service. Together, they are impressive in their many achievements, but like the single moon shell on the beach, each member, on her own, is significant, beautiful and refreshing, and, if we want to keep her as a member, or, interest her in our WVFWC, we must be aware of her needs and strive to meet those needs."

With the support of my Executive Board and the help and prayers of each of you, the next two years will be an administration of "change" .. your bylaw changes at convention gave us this mandate. As a result of post-convention Executive Board action Honor Points have been streamlined and appear elsewhere in the CLUBWOMAN. We have created two sets of Honor Points; every club in the WVFWC should be able to be an Honor Club at state convention in 1983!

Plans of work presented to you in departments and divisions will have "special emphasis" areas where your club can set priorities to fulfill community needs. We will make efforts to provide members "leadership" training through Spring District Workshops and Summer Conference.

Summer Conference will be held at the Holiday Inn, Parkersburg, August 6-7. Hotel reservation forms and registration forms appear in this issue of the CLUBWOMAN .. it will be a red, white, and blue patriotic affair and will feature a mini-film festival and special entertainment on Friday evening. The rooms at the Holiday Inn are large double-bedded rooms and can house four persons comfortably .. so, clip both forms and make your plans NOW before summer gets underway!

I am encouraging your participation in a special "citizenship" American flag project that will have each of you "looking up" in your communities to see if any flags are flying in shreds or discoloration. You are asked to make contact on the local level with any flags that are flying in such a disrespectful manner.

Did you know the WVFWC has a Memorial Garden at Jackson's Mill? It was dedicated at the state convention held at the Mill on May 20-23, 1930, under the direction and by the efforts of Mrs. M. B. Sprigg, a member of the Weston Woman's Club, and Chairman of the Division of Gardens

WEST VIRGINIA CLUBWOMAN

Junior Director's Message

As the 1980-82 administration comes to a close and the beginning of the 1982-84 administration bursts into full swing, I must take a few minutes to ponder over my past Junior activities. As I reflect back on my first year in Juniors, I remember most vividly a trip with my club to the Romney School to deliver a stereo as part of State Project. Then, of course, there was my first Junior Convention when I could not keep my mouth from dropping open at all of the "awe inspiring" projects Juniors had completed across the state. The excitement I experienced with my first trip to the Greenbrier, the opportunity to hear the GFWC President speak, and getting to meet Junior officers and chairmen stand out most clearly in my mind. My first GFWC Convention in Phoenix, when I decided to go just four days prior to Convention, was one of my greatest experiences. Oh, yes, I could go on and on, but I could never fully express how important and vital my Junior activities have been to me personally. As I review my thoughts, they always are related, first of all, to the people involved... The juniors and other Federated Clubwomen. It is the friendship that really is most vivid in all of my Junior thoughts.

Have you ever thought about how important Junior friendship really is? During the past two years, Juniors have contributed 282,000 hours, completed over 14,000 projects, and raised and spent nearly $300,000.00. This could not have been done were it not for the friendship shared in Juniors. We all are willing to work and give service to our communities, but by working with friends, and as friends, we accomplish so much more. With the great job of "Building for Tomorrow" that Juniors have just completed, I know that Juniors will continue working "Together in Friendship."

Not only do my early Junior experiences bring forth fond memories, but the past nine months serving as Junior Director with a wonderful Council and a great group of club presidents has been a most rewarding opportunity. During this year of change, Juniors across the state have worked together in cooperation to accomplish strong foundations for tomorrow.

Now it is time to look to our new administration, as we develop our Federation programs. The State Convention was a great start, as Juniors joined together for fun, fellowship and learning. This will be a "fun" administration, as Snoopy and Woodstock will symbolize the Junior theme of "Together in Friendship."

Together, Juniors will promote sharing Junior fellowship and friendship as a priority. So many times we develop and plan for our communities, but forget our own member. We have a responsibility to meet the needs of each Junior, and to do this we must recognize the limited volunteer time each member has to offer, with more women returning to employment outside of the home, the great demand for volunteers, and the financial situation, we must adjust our Federation programs. Our plans for 1982-84 include such adjustments, as Juniors will emphasize quality projects, not quantity. We will try the new GFWC reporting system without supplemental state reports, will limit awards, will provide "fun times" at meetings, and overall, emphasize MEMBERSHIP. Without Junior volunteers, our communities will suffer, but with a strong emphasis on membership. Juniors can meet personal needs as well as meeting community needs.

Emphasis will always be placed on setting priorities and placing our home and families as our number one priority. Juniors will also encourage working together with all SUMMER, 1982

General Clubwomen and Juniorettes. We definitely realize the need to work TOGETHER to prevent repetitious activities and to give "our best" to our communities.

This coming administration is exciting to me, and I am thrilled as I look ahead to working with each Federated Clubwoman. The honor of representing such a super group of Juniors makes me very humble, as I realize how very important Juniors and my Junior friendship is in everything that I do. Yes, to me, friendship is the true essence of what the real meaning of Juniors is. I would like to share with you the following poem, which symbolizes my thoughts and views of my experiences and opportunities in Federation through Juniors:

Friends...

Who you are and what you mean to me
Are expressions of what life means to me.
I am thankful that in this time our paths merge.
Only the future knows...how long we will travel the same ways.

Certainly only that our lives will be changed
Because of our common experiences,
Let's enjoy the work together and celebrate
The person each of us brings to the journey
And the friends we are becoming
Along the way as we travel "Together in Friendship."

Have a great summer and I will look forward to seeing each of you at Summer Conference in Parkersburg.

Together in Friendship,
Sheila

Alderson Jrs. Join In Historic Celebration

The Alderson Junior Woman's Club was recently honored by being asked to participate in the 200th anniversary celebration of the Old Greenbrier Baptist Church in Alderson. This church is one of the oldest west of The Allegheny Mountains, and one of the most beautiful in the U.S.

The congregation and pastors, both past and present, of this church have been celebrating this occasion the past year. The Juniors presented a dramatic reading scripture and songs of faith at a special evening service. The readings were from a book of church history written by Mrs. Ruth Creech of the GFWC Woman's Club of Alderson. Her information was from the record books that have been kept in the church since its first meeting in Nov. 1781. The Juniors rummaged the attics of the town to find old dresses for all to wear. "One of the dresses featured the famous bustle with hundreds of covered buttons and yards of lace, one featured a 75 year old wedding dress and white eyelet lace, one featured a gold ball gown type with upswept ruffle bowed in velvet. These dresses were the kind worn during the years of Old Greenbrier's early struggle and the depression times. The Interim Pastor, Mr. Woodroe Clark, wore 75 year-old cut-away tails to enhance the mood. The program was taped and placed in the church's Historical room.

After the program, the Juniors hosted a tea and social for all in attendance during the program. Approximately 100 people enjoyed the event.

Pt. Pleasant Jrs. Reorganize Library

The Pt. Pleasant Junior Woman's Club recently spent two weeks reorganizing the library at Central Elementary School. Over 300 man hours of labor were donated by Juniors, the Central School Parent Teacher Organization and parent volunteers. Books were sorted according to primary and intermediate reading levels and categorized according to subject areas. They were repaired and color coded using book tape and then numbered. A master list was compiled with titles and numbers of the books in each subject area to be used as a reference. The teachers and the parent volunteers staff the library during the school year.

Charles Town Jrs. Initiate Members

Six new members were welcomed in to the Charles Town Chapter of the WVFWC. Carol Bradley, Jane Bowers, Camelia Garvin, Cynthia Snyder, Kay Spitzer, and Susan Zigler were initiated in an impressive candlelight ceremony conducted by Diane Mayhew, club president.

Following the ceremony, an informative and entertaining program was presented for the new members introducing them to club life. Ann Ebersole; Susanne Temple, and Sue Heflebower, Eastern District Chairman, related the history of GFWC and explained the workings of its various departments.

In honor of all the new members (the largest group initiated in recent memory) a tea was held immediately following the program in order to give everyone an opportunity to meet and welcome the new members.

1929-37. The Executive Board has given approval for clubs to contribute to a fund for restoration and maintenance of the Garden.

This administration we will be "reaching out to touch someone" through the Special Olympics program in your county. Each county in West Virginia has an active committee .. your club is encouraged to contact those in charge and see what plans they have laid for this summer and how you can assist them.

"COOKIN' IN THE 80'S" will be the name of a completely new cookbook we will be creating this year! This book will feature microwave and low-calorie recipes in addition to all of your favorites! A form appears elsewhere in the CLUBWOMAN .. you are encouraged to follow instructions and send in your recipe IMMEDIATELY!

Want to go to the World's Fair? A motorcoach trip is being planned by the WVFWC for July 22-25, departing from Charleston and stopping in Beckley and Princeton. The cost is $275.00 per person, and if interested, please contact me immediately (403 Cedarcrest Drive, Ripley, WV 25271 or phone 372-9516).

With the high cost of living, the Executive Board has ask for a survey to be done among members regarding the feasibility of moving our state convention to some other location where costs would be less. At The Greenbrier, we can be housed under one roof and can have our meals in the dining room; any other convention facility in the state will mean we must plan lunches and banquets and be housed in several hotels close to the convention center. Please keep in mind that in planning lunches and banquets, you would be given the choice of getting tickets for the functions (same as our national convention is set up), or, the option of eating in the dining room and ordering from the menu. Please study the form below, fill in and return to me as as soon as possible.

I am looking forward with much anticipation to the Fall District meetings and the GFWC convention in Bismarck, North Dakota, and to seeing many of you at spring installation meetings! Have a good summer and may God bless you richly as you go forward with your SEA OF GIVING through volunteerism!

Federation Love,

Ollie

Montcalm-Bluewell, Ripley, Madison, Weirton Named Best Overall Junior Clubs in W. Va.

"My Home Among the Hills" was an appropriate theme for the 49th Annual Junior Convention held in Charleston, April 30th and May 1st, as West Virginia Juniors heard reports of the many activities Juniors completed across the state benefitting their West Virginia home communities. Over 400 West Virginia Juniors and guests attended the Convention and heard Alderson Juniors open Convention with the song "My Home Among the Hills," and the enthusiastic greeting from an active volunteer and legislator, Jane Theiling. Delegates also enjoyed the keynote speaker, Linda Messinger, GFWC Junior Conservation Chairman, who spoke on the theme, "Climb Every Mountain."

Highlighting the awards presentations for the two days, was the announcements of the best overall clubs in the state: Tiny, Montcalm-Bluewell, Small, Ripley, Medium, Madison, and Large, Weirton.

Two new changes were experienced by Juniors at Convention, as a Junior fun night was held following the close of the Friday evening session, and the Purple Hatter's Luncheon became the Purple Hatter's breakfast.

Many WVFWC State Officers were in attendance at the Convention. Mary Bright, Ollie Harvey and Maxine Scarbro brought greetings on behalf of the WVFWC and GFWC. Also featured during the Convention was the new Juniorette Director, Angie White, who brought greetings and spoke on the West Virginia Juniorettes.

Installation of new officers was the concluding activity, with Ollie Harvey, WVFWC President, Installing the following officers: Sheila Williams, Director; Mary Jo Thomas, Associate Director; Sue Shields, Recording Secretary; Nancy Cavallaro, Treasurer; Linda Brown, Corresponding Secretary; and Sharon Morrison, Parliamentarian. Also installed were the following District Chairmen: Faith Martray, Mary Allen, Jane Hayhurst, Debbie DeHaven, Ellajo Walker, Susan Hambric, and Brenda Johnson.

Following the installation, a reception was hosted by the Kingwood Juniors and the Junior Clubs of North Central District, using the theme "Together in Friendship." A special guest at the reception was the comical, bright orange Snoopy, as he greeted delegates as they proceeded through the receiving line.

The 1982 Junior Convention was hostessed by the Capitol District Juniors, with Sharon Morrison serving as District Chairman.

A Salute To

The 1980-82 Administration of the West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs is history...

There has been a lot of "federation as usual" in these two years while traveling more than 22,500 miles...GFWC International Conventions, St. Louis, Missouri and Cedar Rapids, Iowa...Southeastern Regional Conferences, Lexington, Kentucky and Hot Springs, Virginia...GFWC Board Meetings, Washington, D.C. and Vail, Colorado...WVFWC Conventions, The Homestead, Hot Springs, Virginia and The Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs...Junior Conventions, Charleston and Bluefield...Juniorette Conventions, Ripley and White Sulphur Springs...one day Summer Conferences, Morgantown and Huntington...16 District Conventions...2 Legislative Conferences...Club Meetings and Special Anniversaries.

This administration has promoted GFWC Identity...Membership/Leadership...Legislation and all aspects of Highway Safety.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs will be 100 years old in 1990. Clubs were requested to preface their name with GFWC to emphasize their identity with the world's largest organization of volunteer women.

"Turn it Around in the 80's" was the slogan for a Special Awareness Campaign which was funded by the federation with the goal to orientate new members and retain the 233 clubs with 13,076 members. Pride buttons which read

"WVFWC Ask Me What It means" were worn, public service announcements were prepared for state radio and television stations, "Volunteers Do Make A Difference" copy was provided for billboards statewide, publicity stories and photos were sent to state newspapers and 25,000 brochures were distributed.

The "Days at the Legislature" co-sponsored with the West Virginia Women's Commission set attendance records both years.

The WVFWC joined the WV Retailers Association and DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) and formed a coalition to prevent shoplifting, which cost citizens of West Virginia 135 million dollars in 1979. Legislation was introduced and West Virginia became the first state to pass the model Shoplifting Prevention Bill in 1981.

A resolution supporting the use of child restraints and seat belts was passed by the federation. A special project with $75,139 in federal funding was written by the Governor's Highway Safety Administration and was administered by the West Virginia Safety Council. Safety Seminars were held in Charleston, Beckley, Martinsburg, Fairmont, Wheeling and Parkersburg.

A Bill was drafted...introduced and passed by the 65th Session of the WV Legislature. Club members testified before committees in both Houses...wrote letters and sent telegrams. West Virginia became the 4th state to have a Child Restraint Law which became effective July 9, 1981. As a public service, local individuals, industry and the West Virginia Association of Women Highway Safety Leaders provided copy for 100 billboards statewide which read:

"Make Every Ride a Safe Ride
Use Child Safety Seats
It's the LAW"

"Driving Under the Influence" laws were made more strict. Governor John D. Rockefeller IV appointed me to represent the WVFWC on the 14 member Task Force Against Drunk Driving.

As Public Education Chairman, the State Department of Education was approached and they were requested to comply with the 1923 law and teach all ramifications of alcohol and alcohol abuse in all grades of the education system of WV schools.

5,000 posters and one million leaflets, "West Virginia Will Not Tolerate Drunk Driving" was delivered by West Virginia clubwomen through the local ABC stores before the 1981 holidays.

In 1981, there were 100 less fatalities on the West Virginia highways as compared to 1980 and as this goes to press, there is a 9.7% decrease in fatalities as compared to the same period of time in 1981.

For whatever the reason or reasons and I'm sure there are many...keep up your good work.

"Federation not as usual" has also been experienced. Due to an unsuccessful Artist in Residence Program in the prior administration, the West Virginia Federation was sued for $50,000 by William Gerhold in early 1980. By a vote of the federation membership, the Civil Suit was settled out of court for $9,272.03. Bylaws have been changed to prevent this situation from reoccurring.

For 25 years, The Greenbrier has been the site for the annual conventions of the WVFWC. In 1981, due to a strike of the employees at The Greenbrier which began in December, 1980 and ended in mid-February 1981, the 75th Annual Convention was moved to The Homestead, Hot Springs, Virginia. One session of this convention was devoted to eight workshops with seven GFWC Chairmen serving in a leadership position. Assisting them were representatives from the American Council of Life Insurance Company...West Virginia Safety Council...WV Department of Public Safety...the Attorney General of West Virginia...WV Retailers Association...American Petroleum Institute and Procter and Gamble.

I have had the privilege of serving with two capable Junior Directors. Judy Spensky resigned as director at the end of the first year due to personal matters. Sheila Williams, Associate Director, assumed the responsibility and will continue as Director of Junior Clubs for a two year term.

This issue of the Clubwoman Magazine has this message and a message from your new president. In subsequent years the Spring Issue was the final issue off an administration.

A History of the West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs Districts and Clubs has been published and a booklet of the poems of each administration has been compiled and published.

West Virginia was one of the pilot states that participated in the "Every Drop Makes A Difference" Program sponsored by the Shell Oil Company. the GFWC-Vienna Woman's Club represented you well.

Clubs participated in the Community Improvement Program sponsored by Sears and Roebuck Foundation, Able-Disabled, Project Heart Saver, FREE (Federation's Role in our Enterprise Economy) and CARE.

During the two years, clubs donated more than $11,700 to the Pearl S. Buck Birthplace, $3,053 to Camp Galahad and $8,126 to the "Mile of Dimes" for Arthritis.

The two year awards were certificates and cash instead of silver. Special Citations were awarded to the GFWC Vienna Woman's Club, GFWC Lost Creek Woman's Club and GFWC New Cumberland Young Woman's Club for outstanding work in the six departments of federation work.

Clubs supported the WVFWC by selling Anniversary Cookbooks, items from Tracy Hamilton, Lincoln House, Florine, Inc. and through Majestic Studios.

Bulletins were mailed regularly to members of the Executive Board, Council and Club Presidents.

The WVFWC endorsed Linda Messinger of Huntington as a candidate for the office of GFWC Director of Junior Clubs. She is unopposed for this position.

The Blueprint 21st Century Committee surveyed the membership and this resulted in recommendations being presented by the Bylaws Committee that were accepted at The Greenbrier. These changes restructured the Executive Board by deleting the positions of Historian, Clubwoman Advertising Manager and the Scholarship Loan Committee Chairman. The Arts...Public Affairs...Education...International Affairs...Home Life and Conservation Department Chairmen were added. Dues to the WVFWC were raised from $.95 per member to $1.60 and support to the Clubwoman Magazine was raised from $.20 per member to $.40. A pre-registration fee of $10.00 per capita for each member or visitor attending the state convention, was also accepted.

There has been excellent reporting in all Departments, Divisions and Special Committees.

The Divisions showing the most participation and interest as reflected through reports are: Leadership, Membership, Health, Family Living, Creative Arts and Citizenship. Those reports reflecting the least amount of participation are: International Policy, International Aid, Consumer Concerns and Energy. The International Aid totals, however, do not reflect clubs that donate to CARE. About 85% of our clubs do make some contribution to CARE, but do not respond.

Clubwomen have spent 710,282½ hours and raised $675,139.83 for their 25,763 projects.

I am truly grateful that I have been given the privilege to serve as your President...this great opportunity to help to improve our own well being and that of those we love deserves to be cherished... Thank you for sharing and enjoying our "Unity in Diversity" for these two years.

Love,
Mary

Summer Conference To Be Red, White & Blue

Marge Buchanan,
Chairman

Margaret Owen,
Co-Chairman

Mary Allen,
Junior Chairman

The Eighth Annual Summer Conference will be held at the Holiday Inn, Parkersburg, located at Route 50 and I-77, on August 6-7, 1982. Registration will be August 6 - 6:00 to 8:00 p.m., or August 7, - 8:00 a.m.

The Friday evening session, scheduled to begin at 8:00 p.m., will feature a mini-film festival of special emphasis projects and entertainment that promises to be a tremendous surprise!

The Saturday session will have a patriotic theme and everyone will be asked to wear red, white, or blue and will feature a speaker; leadership presentation; reports from selected state and national chairmen; and special entertainment. The afternoon session will include department workshops. There will be a super-special presentation on reporting by Jackie Cordray, second vice-president.

Juniors and General club members will meet together on Saturday morning. Juniors will have lunch at the Quality Inn and meet there for their afternoon session.

We have a block of 100 rooms reserved at the Holiday Inn. It is important that you make reservations as soon as possible. It will not be necessary to send a deposit unless you want a guaranteed reservation.

JUNIORETTE CONVENTION

"Watch Out World, Here Comes the Juniorettes," was the theme of the 12th Annual Juniorette Convention hosted by the Bridgeport Juniorettes on April 16-17th in Bridgeport.

Over 84 Juniors and guests were in attendance and observed the nomination and election of the first Juniorette Director of West Virginia Juniorettes. Angie White, of Ripley Juniorettes, was installed by the Junior Director, Sheila Williams, as the Juniorette Director for 1982-83.

Highlighting the awards presentation of the Convention was the presentation to the Ripley Juniorettes of "The Pacemaker Award," as the best overall club trophy. Among other outstanding awards presented was the Juniorette of the Year, Terry Latkiewicz, of the Weirton Juniorettes, and the Advisor of the Year for the second year in a row, Jane Ann Cann, of the Bridgeport Juniorettes.

Among the guests attending the Convention and bringing greetings were Mrs. Donald Harvey, President, WVFWC; Sheila Williams, WVFWC Junior Director; Mrs. Wayne Summerfield, First Vice-President, WVFWC; Mary Jo Thomas, Junior North Central District Chairman; Mayor Charles Loar, Bridgeport; Nancy Cavallaro, Junior Arts Chairman; and Sue Kuhaneck, Junior Recording Secretary.

Juniorette Clubs attending the Convention were: Bridgeport, North Marion, Ripley, Lincoln Weirton, White Sulphur Springs and Ravenswood.

The meeting started with a Friday evening get-together hosted by the Bridgeport Juniors and followed with a Saturday Convention with a noon luncheon. The meeting was presided over by Jane Hayhurst, Juniorette Chairman, Junior Department, WVFWC.

GFWC, Clay County Woman's Club joined Girl Scout Troop 168 in one of the best happenings around and it was a project called Litter Free Elk River. The last clean-up of Elk River was ten years ago. They worked with Governor Rockefeller's program: West Virginia Proud and Clean; with the WV Highway Safety Dept.; the Department of Natural Resources; the Governor's Community Development Office; Mayors of Clay and Clendenin; and many volunteers.

A Proclamation Reception for Governor Rockefeller and Pete Samsell, former Director of the DNR, was held on the banks of Elk River.

GFWC, Clay County Woman's Club received The Radiant Rhododendron Recognition from Secretary of State, A. J. Manchin; the Community Service Award from Governor Rockefeller; and the Concerned Citizen Certificate to Lue Chandler as Coordinator of Litter Free Elk River Project, from Secretary of State, A. J. Manchin.

Excerpts From Dr. Marshall Carper

Family Physicians of West Virginia have a little known but nevertheless strong ally in a three-year-old organization entitled "Educational Seed for Physicians, Incorporated" (ESP). This body was created by the West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs in response to an idea generated by its 1978 President, Mrs. Hersel Perdue of Wayne, West Virginia.

The WVFWC adopted as their major project the raising of $65,000 of seed money, the interest on which would be used as a scholarship to some deserving medical student who would agree to practice in West Virginia in Family Practice.

I have served for many years on scholarship committees of both the West Virginia State Medical Association and the Attorney General's Public Health Trust Fund, but this is the first such friendship to designate a specific field of medical practice in its provisions.

It was no small task for these ladies to generate this amount of money, but the greater than 100 individual clubs constituting the WVFWC busied themselves through all manner of projects including cookbook sales, coupon redemptions, contributions, sale of figurines from Blenko Glass, custom paper weights, etc. They not only reached their goal of $65,000 but exceeded it. This made it possible to offer a $2500/year scholarship to a young man or woman during his/her years in medical school who would agree to practice for five years in West Virginia in Family Practice following formal training.

It has been my honor and pleasure to serve as Chairman of the Selection Committee of this fine organization along with other physician members on the board -- Dr. Robert Hess, Dr. Asei Hatfield, and Dr. Jean Cavender.

Those of us in family Practice in West Virginia owe the WVFWC a great debt of gratitude for its efforts in recruiting more family doctors for our State. As in life good friends are hard come by, and we in Family Practice are certainly aware of the antipathy which is directed toward us from other areas of medicine at times. I'm certainly glad the ladies chose us in Family Practice to assist in this way -- by their action they are proving that WVFWC is one of the best friends we ever had.

Caring and Sharing In Hurricane

What are the members of GFWC of Hurricane crazy about? Caring and Sharing, or course!

These past two years have been so rewarding--when we visited lovely little ladies, quaint old gents, families down on their luck, and lent our assistance and encouragement to one special young Miss who is aspiring to become a legal secretary.

We've had so much fun baking goodies, filling Santa Stockings, dressing dollies, and traveling over the mud-caked single lane Country Roads!

This Christmas season was extra special for us because when we gathered together to learn about Christmas Customs Around the World, each of our members brought a heaped up Santa Stocking for a shut-in and a remembrance gift for our Scholarship Student, Miss Irene Chandler.

Irene was recommended to us by her high school counselor and Woman's Club member, Mrs. Betty Hensley, as worthy to receive financial aid from our Elaine Howell Scholarship Fund. Irene had experienced some difficulties and had not graduated on time with her class, but she is a determined lass and scored very high on her G.E.D. test and received her diploma. Irene recognized that additional education was essential for her to become a legal secretary and she is willing to work extra hard to attain this goal.

We are so happy to be able to support Irene with her goal!! She attended our Christmas dinner and we were able to share our blessings with her and our members were warmly blessed in return by Irene's honest and sincere gratitude.

"Love isn't Love until you give it away" and this is the Theme we have chosen to live everyday!!!

Charleston holds clean-up campaign.

The Woman's Club of Charleston and Mrs. A. G. (Juanita) Temple, Chairman of the Community Improvement Committee, were recently awarded a silver tray and plaque by Governor Rockefeller for what had been accomplished during the "Clean-Up Charleston" campaign that was initiated and carried thru as a Community Improvement project of the club.

A city wide participation was approved by the mayor and city council. The city beautification director and representatives of the club and other civic organizations coordinated and supervised a widespread program of clean-up and improvement in all public areas. A big feature of the program was special trash pick-ups scheduled for each of the 19 wards of the city, from March 23 to

May 29, resulting in the collection of more than three million pounds of trash.

To promote the campaign, the club held meetings; solicited help from other clubs and civic organizations; distributed fliers and posters; gave out bumper stickers; displayed a large banner on the front of the clubhouse; and put on several demonstrations to attract attention to areas needing clean-up.

A logo designed by a club member was used on badges and buttons worn by all volunteer workers and in all kinds of publicity.

As a result of the clean-up campaign, Charleston has an improved appearance and its residents have acquired a new appreciation of their beautiful city.

Parkersburg Juniors. Help Handicapped Girl

Two orthopedic appliances were purchased for Lisa Owen, a student at Jefferson School by the Junior Department, Woman's Club of Parkersburg. One device is for school use and will follow her all of her school years; the other device is for home use.

The magnetic wrist devices control the wrist of the little girl who is a victim of cerebral palsy. She is a sixth-grade student of La Vaughn Kellow, who by the way, was named "The 1981 Teacher of the Year in Wood County."

Lisa is a highly intelligent little girl and one can see how her classmates are proud to have her in their room and how very protective they were of her.

Mrs. Kellow said it broke her heart when the little girl tried to write, she would sprawl out on the floor.

The Parkersburg Juniors were so very happy that they could help her.

Hamlin Juniors Give Special Help

Being special means surpassing what is common or usual. The Hamlin Juniors passed that special feeling through projects to the area Special Education students.

Club members helped with the Special Olympics parade and activities. Members prepared refreshments for the Hamlin Elementary primary special children at Valentine's Day and Halloween. A bowling trip for these students was chaperoned by members. These students also received Christmas stockings from the club.

A Christmas party was given for Lincoln County pre-school handicapped students who participate in the Region III Child Development Services Pre-school Handicapped Projects. The children had refreshments, play activities, and received gifts.

HAPPINESS...

Happiness is...they say...the elusive butterfly,
Flitting his way along the winding path of life
--Just ahead of you, and yet--
Just barely out of reach.

Sometimes he lights atop a glistening leaf
And dares you to come touch,
His golden wings a beckoning light
To your joy-starved fingertips.

But just as you extend a hopeful hand
To claim a piece of sunshine wing,
He flits his longed-for promise at you
And flies away above your head--untrapped.

That's what "they" say of happiness and its pursuit!
But those who know some more of life
Watch thoughtfully the chase
And go their way, a smile within.

For they know that the elusive wings of joy,
If left to wend their way alone,
Will dart and soar on up ahead,
And light and take off many times.

And when it's least expected, that butterfly
Will double back and land quite well
On an unsuspecting head that spent no time
Fretting over its difficult pursuit.

Editor's Note: The following recipes were submitted by the International Affairs Department of the Point Pleasant Junior Woman's Club. The recipes were included in the club's "Happy Cooker" recipes.

FAR EAST: Mix a can of drained bean sprouts; a can of drained sliced bamboo shoots; bun of watercress; and shredded lettuce.

Toss with Vinaigrette salad dressing. Dressing: Combine $\frac{1}{4}$ cup oil; $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cider or wine vinegar; $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt; pepper to taste; 2 teaspoons chopped parsley; 1 teaspoon green olives chopped fine; 1 hard-boiled egg yolk chopped fine; and chopped chives.

GERMANY: Combine cubes of hot, cooked potatoes with crumbled cooked bacon. Toss with Vinaigrette salad dressing. (Recipe above.)

ITALY: Wrap thin slices of ham (Italian prosciutto or Virginia ham) around cubes of honeydew melon. Chill and serve.

BALKANS: Arrange a platter with sliced cucumbers, radishes, onions, small whole mushrooms, and cubes or fingers of canteloupe.

Combine 1 cup sour cream with 2 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt; and pepper to taste. Add any combination of the following: 1 tablespoon chopped chives, little crushed garlic, 2 tablespoons grated onion, 2 teaspoons horseradish, 1 teaspoon chopped dill, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon paprika. For the sour cream, you can substitute half sour cream, half mayonnaise.

Oak Hill Juniors Select Sports Festival Queen

The Oak Hill Junior Woman's Club sponsored a Queen's Pageant during the West Virginia Sports Festival. Area high schools were contacted to have their school represented. Eight girls entered, representing three high schools. A $20 sponsors fee was required of each girl.

A week before the pageant the girls practiced a dance routine that would open the night's program. A panel of five judges met with each girl the afternoon of the pageant to ask questions and get to know them before they would see them on stage.

The night of the program the girls were judged on poise, personality, talent, bathing suit and evening gown competition.

A Miss Congeniality trophy was given to one of the girls which the girls voted on themselves. A trophy was also presented to the talent competition winner.

Trophys were given to first runner-up, second runner-up and the queen, along with an arm bouquet of roses. The queen received many additional gifts which included a $100 savings bond, a diamond pendant and over $200 worth of gift certificates from area merchants. The queen also made several guest appearances throughout the week.

The Pineville Woman's Club celebrated their 45th anniversary Sunday afternoon, March 7th in Fellowship Hall of the Pineville United Methodist Church with a tea, with Mrs. Bruce (Shirley) Williams, president, welcoming those attending.

Two charter members, Mrs. W. C. Bailey and Miss Violet Lusk, were present and presented certificates from the club. Miss Lusk was presented a plaque since she is the only Charter member to still be an active member of the Club.

A special table was prepared for the four deceased past presidents of the Club, which was covered with a white cloth with an open Bible, a single lighted white candle and a spray of four white rose buds.

Kidney Patient Helped

The Buckhannon Junior Woman's Club raised over $1600.00, for the Roger Williams Kidney Fund, sponsoring a Lap-a-thon. Fifty two (52) participants, including Ronnie McCartney, himself a kidney patient, entered the event. Ronnie raised the highest individual donation of $373.00.

Youth and adults alike took part either walking, skipping, jogging, or even crawling around the track at a local school. Gary Williams, Roger's father also took part in the Lap-a-thon. Many local companies including Union Drilling, Buckhannon Kiwanis Club and Corhart Refractories, plus many individuals sponsored runners and walkers alike. Refreshments were donated by Hardee's, Mister Donut and the Spudnut Shoppe. A cool drink and a bit of sugar gave all the participants a lift and some extra energy for a couple of more laps.
